WHAT IS THE REAL SITUATION?

The Waterworks Will Not be Transferred to the City Just at Present—The Aldermen Informally Discussed the Matter Last Night—A Complex Problem—A Report on the Books of the Water Company Ready—The Delay Defers Issuing Street and Sewerage Bonds.

The deal for the purchase of the water plant by the city will not be closed—at least for the present. It was the intention of the Board of Aldermen to have the property transferred to the city by October 1st, but recent developments have postponed such action indefinitely. The conclusion of the whole matter may be that the city will not own a system of water-works.

The Board of Aldermen met in informal session and discussed the matter last night, though nothing definite was done. The Aldermen have been wrestling with this great question for two years, and although light was thought to be breaking on several occasions, they are apparently as much in the dark today as ever. It was said on the streets today that the meeting last night was a doleful gathering, made so by the revelation of what might be termed "inside history." This, coupled with other facts, was "the blow that killed father." None of the City Fathers have sufficiently recovered to devise a scheme for the relief of the situation.

A member of the Board was heard to say today that he was beginning to regret that the Citizens' ticket was not successful in the last municipal election. Said he: "We have set up night after night, losing sleep and valuable time, trying to settle this water business in an honest and fair manner, and it begins to look as if all our work had been in vain. It is the most complex problem I have ever encountered, and I believe the other members of the Board are having the same experience. The city may get a water plant, but it will be at the expense of the gray hairs of the Aldermen."

When the terms of the sale were agreed upon Alderman Boyd was appointed a committee of one to examine the books of the Greensboro Water Supply Company for the purpose of verifying statements that had been made as to the expense of operating the plant, the income, etc. He has completed his task and will have a report to submit at the next regular meeting of the Board, which will be held on Friday night, the 28th inst.

Nothing is known as to the result of his investigations, but it has been suggested that the report may be described by that old maxim which says "Things are not always what they seem." It will be awaited with a great deal of interest by the public.

Every day of delay in settling the water question defers that much longer the issuing of bonds for street improvements and a more extended sewerage system. By the terms of the legislative act authorizing the bond issues, as well as the city charter, it is impossible to increase taxes to pay the interest. It was the intention of the city authorities to carry the interest on the bonds with the proceeds derived from the market house and city hall and the water and lighting plants. So far the city hall and market house only have been arranged for.

DEATH OF MR. C. E. TURNER.

A Bright Young Man and a Brother of Dr. J. P. Turner, of This City.

Mr. Charles E. Turner, of Durham, died rather suddenly yesterday afternoon at the home of his brother, Dr. J. M. Turner, in Wilkesboro. He had been suffering from consumption for quite a while, but his death was not expected just at this time. Several months ago he spent a few weeks in Greensboro with Dr. J. P. Turner, another brother.

Mr. Turner was a very bright young lawyer and had built up a splendid practice in Durham, where he had resided since graduating from Trinity College several years ago. He was 23 years old.

The body was carried to the family home at Cool Springs, in Iredell county, today for interment. Dr. J. P. Turner left Greensboro this morning to attend the funeral.

SUMMER TOWN WIPED AWAY.

Fire This Morning Burns Spring Lake, N. J., With $200,000 Worth of Property. By Wire to The Telegram.

Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 19.—A high northwest wind fanned the flames of a fire early this morning and this summer city is practically in ashes. The fire started in a steamlaundry and consumed the celebrated Monmouth Hotel and the Carlton and Essex hotels. Twelve cottages of Seagirt were threatened, but saved by an estuary which the flames could not open. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

PINKERTONS IN THE DISTRICTS.

POURING IN AND HEAVILY ARMED.

Strike Situation Unchanged Except a Few Recruits to the Ranks of the Strikers are Being Made—a Squad of 110 Strikers Go on a Rampage and Stopped Operations in Several Mines.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 19.—The situation is practically unchanged. In the Wyoming district, which is a complete shut down, the men are quiet but confident of victory.

Pinkertons arrived this morning to protect the works.

In Pittston the strike is now complete. Every man in the Pittston district is idle today.

HAZELTON COMING IN.

Hazleton, Sept. 19.—The ranks of the strikes in the Hazleton district were swelled today by recruits from nearly every colliery in the region that worked yesterday and Monday. The most important movement occurred south of here, when 110 striking miners, of McAdoo, made a triumphant march through the southside and succeeded in stopping the operations in several mines and further crippling the Colerain colliery. Pinkerton men heavily armed poured into the strike district today.

IN MEMORY OF MR. BYRD.

Resolutions Adopted by Greensboro Council No. 13, Jr. O. A. U. M.

Whereas, An all-wise and beneficent providence has seen fit to remove from our midst Brother J. A. Byrd, for several years a member of Greensboro Council No. 13, Jr. O. A. U. M., and:

Whereas, We are sensible of the loss sustained by our beloved order and his bereaved widow, therefore be it resolved:

1. That we place on record in permanent form an expression of our loss and bereavement and extend to the widow of our deceased brother our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy in her grief and desolation.

2. That a page of the permanent records of this council be set apart as sacred to the memory of our deceased brother and that a copy of these resolutions be inscribed thereon; that a copy be furnished the bereaved widow, and that the daily papers of Greensboro be requested to publish the same.

MR. GREGORY NOT ILL.

Reported Here That He Had Yellow Fever in Havana.

It was reported here this morning that Mr. Hardy T. Gregory was sick of yellow fever in Havana, Cuba. The information came through the Havana Post, which said that he was dangerously ill. This naturally caused Mr. Gregory's relatives here much anxiety and a cablegram was sent to Havana inquiring as to his condition. A reply was received from Mr. Gregory himself this afternoon stating that he was sound and well, the newspaper having published the name of the wrong man.

Mr. Gregory, who is a post-office inspector, has been in Cuba since the postal frauds were discovered on the island a few months ago.

NO PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS

NOT ADVISABLE AT NORTH BUFFALO

Mr. Gray Says as It is Certain That This Stream Will Not Long Furnish Abundant Water, Extensive Improvements Should Not be Made—Must Have a Filter—Distribution System Should be Reinforced—South Buffalo Would Undoubtedly Supply Demands for Some Time.

We continue today the publication of Engineer Gray's report. The Telegram's efforts to give the people what information is obtainable on the all important question has been appreciated very much. They see for themselves what the expert said and are able to form their own conclusions. It is noticeable that Mr. Gray never at all took into consideration the total exhaustion of North Buffalo as it occurred this month, though he says that it is only a question of time till the stream would be inadequate. All the figuring on the trade was done before this unlooked for occurrence and hence an entirely new face is on the matter.

FILTRATION.

In this country two principal methods of filtration are in general use. The natural or slow sand filtration, and the mechanical or rapid filtration.

The method of natural filtration is accomplished by means of filterbeds composed of sand, usually from three to four feet in depth, through which the water is allowed to flow slowly. This method requires larger areas in proportion to the quantity filtered than the mechanical or rapid method of filtration.

The mechanical method of filtration is accomplished by the use of certain chemicals added to the water to aid sedimentation, the water then being filtered through crushed quartz. By this means the rate of filtration can be much more rapid, requiring less area of filtering material. The chemical most generally used is sulphate of alumina commonly known as alum, and requires from one to three grains per gallon, depending upon the condition of the water.

There are several methods of mechanical filtration, one of which is to pump the water, (after having added the solution of alum), through an iron tank containing the proper depth of crushed quartz, the tank being connected with the force main. This is known as the "pressure filter." To clean this filter the filtered water from the standpipe is allowed to flow back through the filter, washing all the sediment from the top of the crushed quartz. The filter ought to be cleaned at least once a day, which usually requires about one half hour.

One other method of mechanical filtration is to pump the water with low-lift-pumps into a sedimentation basin, adding the chemicals, causing precipitation of much of the suspended matters, after which the water flows into a gravity filter, usually made of crushed quartz, contained in tanks made either of iron or wood. After filtering, the water flows into a clear water basin or pump-well, from which it is usually pumped into a standpipe or reservoir. The method of cleaning the gravity filter is similar to that of the pressure type, with the exception that there is a mechanical method of agitating the sand when washing. This method does not require as much time in cleaning as the pressure type of filters and does not consume so much water.

The cost of operating one of these mechanical filters, including the chemicals, fuel, and labor, averages about $3.50 per million gallons, for small quantities.

In your case the expense would not be as great, especially for labor, as the filter plant could be operated by the engineer in charge of the pumping station.

There is no question but that any supply of water you are able to obtain from the surface of the ground ought to be filtered to render it suitable for domestic use.

Since this report has been in preparation an analysis of the water from the South Buffalo creek has been received. The sample of the water was taken by your city engineer at the time of a heavy rain, when the banks of the stream were overflowed, and was sent directly to the chemist for analysis. The analysis shows that 850 bacterial colonies to the cubic centimeter, were found in the water, and a great many of them were intestinal bacilli.

This is an unusually large number to find in a domestic water supply and the water should not be used without thorough filtration. If this pollution occurs in the South Buffalo creek, it will undoubtedly occur in the North Buffalo creek, or any other surface supply of waters which you may be able to find in the vicinity of Greensboro as they all are of a similar nature.

By proper mechanical filtration you will not only secure clear water but nearly all the bacteria may be removed. Practice shows that from 96 to 98 per cent. of the bacteria can be removed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

It will be seen from what has been stated, that the North Buffalo creek will not be capable of furnishing an abundant supply of good water for your city much longer; and therefore it will not be advisable to make extensive and permanent improvements, with a view of supplying the city with water from this source.

Should you decide to continue the supply from North Buffalo creek for a few years, then there ought to be installed, at the earliest practical moment, a filtration plant capable of filtering not less than 1,500,000 gallons per day. As this would not be considered a permanent improvement, it might be well to put in a filter of the pressure type, which would probably cost from $10,000 to $12,000 complete.

The present pumping station while not in the best of repair could, together with the two pumps now in use, be retained for a few years, or until the demand for water exceeds the quantity obtainable from North Buffalo creek; then it would be necessary to build and equip a new pumping plant at some other source.

South Buffalo creek will undoubtedly furnish an ample supply of good water for your city for several years, and should the demand for water far exceed the quantity estimated, an auxiliary plant could be established at the junction of Ryan creek, or the present pumping station at the North Buffalo creek can be retained to meet the deficiency which would occur only during a dry period.

As before stated, the present height of the water tower in connection with the small pipe system is insufficient to afford a good fire protection to property in the city, as has been well demonstrated by several disastrous fires which have recently occurred.

Should the city acquire the Greensboro Water Supply Company's plant, it will be advisable to reinforce the distribution system, by making such additions and changes as are shown on the accompanying plan and table appended to this report; also to replace the present wooden tank with a new steel water tower 25 feet in diameter and 65 feet high, reinforcing the brick tower to support the greater weight of water which the new tank would contain.

With the new water tower and the proposed changes made in the distribution system, the fire protection would be ample for any of the present buildings. At the corner of Elm and Church streets, six good effective streams could be thrown over 60 feet high, each through 100 feet of 2½ inch hose with one inch nozzle, and at the east end of Washington street near the factory, four good streams could be thrown 70 feet high, under the same conditions. Other locations in the city would be equally provided for.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

After a careful study and review of the whole question, I am of the opinion that it would be advisable for you to purchase the present system of water works, at a sum not to exceed the estimated value of the same, and to eventually transfer the source of supply, and I am also of the opinion that it would be advisable for you to retain and use the present source of supply for a few years, or until the demand for water exceeds the amount furnished from the North Buffalo creek. This time cannot long be deferred, for as before stated, the limited capacity of the pumping machinery as well as the flow of the stream during the dry months of the year are about equal to the daily consumption at the present time.

It is further recommended, that should you decide to purchase the present system of works, the additions and changes in the pipe system be made to conform to the plan submitted, and to the tables appended to this report, and that a new steel tower be substituted for the present wooden tank on top of the brick tower, and a filter plant installed.

These additions and changes should be made, whether or not the source of supply is taken from the North or South Buffalo creeks.

GOD'S PLAN OF SALVATION.

ETERNAL AND INEXORABLE JUSTICE

"Without the Shedding of Blood There is No Remission of Sin"—One Sin Will Overbalance an Exemplary Life and Consign the Transgressor to Everlasting Punishment—The Saved Man Goes to Heaven Because the Debt Has Been Paid for Him

The revival services at West Washington Street Baptist church continue to grow in interest. Rev. Mr. Martin is preaching to large congregations, the church being filled at each service. Last night some were unable to obtain seats.

Mr. Martin preached on "God's Plan of Salvation," taking his text from Isaiah 53:5 and 6: "But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. All we, like sheep, have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own path; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all."

In his introductory remarks the minister said the most beautiful picture of the life of Christ to be found in the whole Bible was contained in the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah. Although it was written 700 years before the birth of Christ, no man, no matter how learned he might be, could write anything that would equal it.

As a foundation for his remarks, Mr. Martin laid down the following three propositions: First, there is no forgiveness of a sinner's sin; second, a man who accepts Christ is sure to go to heaven; third, a man who is saved according to the text is sure to lead a better life.

A person may commit only one sin, said the preacher, and ever after lead an exemplary life, but that one sin against the law of God will bar the gate of heaven against and consign him to everlasting damnation. He may even be sorry for that one sin and cry earnestly for forgiveness, but he can be redeemed only under the law of God. "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin." Mr. Martin believes the law of God is eternal, everlasting and inexorable justice; that God will forgive a Christian, but not a sinner, because the two occupy different relations.

In illustrating the latter point the speaker declared that any man who joined a mob to wreak vengeance on a fellow being, no matter under what provocation, was a red-handed murderer in the sight of God.

The saved man goes to heaven because all his sins are paid for; not because the man is good, but because Christ died for him and he has availed himself of the opportunity offered through the blood of the Son of God.

The latter part of the discourse was taken up in a discussion of the love and gratitude that fills the heart of a Christian, causing him to serve God through love and not through fear of hell and eternal punishment.

REPORT ON THE PEABODY FUNDS

RECEIPTS FOR SCHOOLS WERE $4,450.

Of which $2,000 Went to the Normal and Industrial College—Mr. Faison Says the Sentiment for Compulsory Education is Fast Gaining Ground—A Small Tornado in Wake-Artesian Wells Fast Growing in Public Favor.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

RALEIGH, Sept. 19.—The annual report on the Peabody fund for North Carolina is made up. It shows that the receipts for schools were $4,450, of which $2,000 was an allowance to the State Normal and Industrial College, at Greensboro. There was a special allowance for the negro teachers' institutes, of which $500 has been expended. A report is also made on the Peabody scholarships allowed this State. It is singular but true, that almost every one of these scholarships is given to persons in the extreme western part of the State.

The Agricultural Department has received a quantity of seeds from the Royal Botanical Garden in Ceylon, with which tests are to be made.

Assistant Labor Commissioner Faison says the question as to the need for a compulsory educational system in North Carolina, is again asked this year, and that the replies show a great increase in the popular desire for it. He says the question will certainly be presented to the Legislature in some shape. The most feasible plan, he says, is something like local option in cities and towns where there is a public school system—in other words, to start the plan where it can be enforced.

Saturday night a windstorm tore through a very narrow strip of Wake and Franklin counties, grazing Wake Forest village and striking some buildings at Youngsville. At the latter place it wrecked a Methodist and a Baptist church, causing a loss of $300, it is estimated, and also wrecked a tobacco prizehouse, loss $1,000. It is said the crop losses will approximate $3,000. The track of the storm was only about 100 feet wide.

The police have made renewed attempts to capture "Boots" Brown, the negro who murdered Sarah Davis. The negroes are giving no help in catching him, nor are they expected to do so. Yesterday the negroes asserted they had chased him, but this was untrue. Negroes will in nine cases out of ten protect negro criminals, simply because they are negroes.

The rains have caused the top of all the cotton to grow about six inches and to be a vivid green full of little squares.

The Republicans are fighting F. M. Simmons' election to the United States senate with all their might. They talk of this freely.

The hospital at the Soldiers Home is completed save the plumbing. The Soldiers' Home buildings by the way were a Confederate Hospital in June, 1861, the first regular hospital in the Confederacy, it is said.

The legislature now gives $10,000 to the home. It last year gave $5,000 for the hospital and various improvements. The legislature will be asked for $20,000, so as to provide for 150 to 175 inmates. Of course as the years pass the home will become more and more a hospital. In, say 15 or 20 years, at most, its use will have an end. The hospital will give room for a number of veterans in the present quarters.

Artesian wells are getting to be deserved favorites in this State. While watching the drill boring an artesian well at the institution for the white blind, the operators were questioned about their business. The firm has 13 drilling machines now at work in North Carolina. It has a contract to bore eighteen wells for the Seaboard Air Line. This particular well is now at a depth of 128 feet and is in the granite. In this granite the operatives expect to find the water supply. They do not expect the well to be a "spouter," and say they find such only near the coast. Another artesian well is to be drilled at the institution for negro deaf-mutes and blind here.

The most attractive spot in Raleigh is the square on which the executive mansion stands. The ornamental plants and shrubbery set out by George Vanderbilt's skilled men, have grown and thrived and are now beautiful. So is the lawn. The beauty of the grounds is in contrast with the capitol square which is not nearly so well kept or attractive.

For a great many years, perhaps, 50 or more, the old city cemetery here was an unkempt place. Happily that reproach is now removed. The walks and drives are stone-bordered and macadamized, the grass cared for and the place fenced with the fence which formerly enclosed the capitol square. People who are identified with every section of North Carolina lie at rest in that grave yard, which is now well in the city, though when laid out was far from it. The proper keeping of the place is more than a local affair.

SIMMONS FOR SENATORSHIP.

HIS CLAIMS MOST ABLY URGED.

Countryman Offers Six Reasons in His Behalf--He Has Been Faithful--He is Able. He is Generous--He is Clean--He is Poor. The Republicans are Praying Night and Day for Anybody on Earth Except Simmons.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

Will you allow a plain citizen to offer a few reasons why, in my judgment, Hon. F. M. Simmons should succeed the Hon. Marion Butler in the Senate of the United States?

1st. He has been faithful. Twice he has had the burden of the campaign resting on his shoulders. He bared his bosom to the storm. He faced without flinching, the most bitter and relentless persecutions. He endured the contradiction of sinners. Many men would have quailed under this cyclone of traduction; but he opened not his mouth and went calmly on with his great work. For the sake of his State and his people he suffered the vilest torrent of abuse that was ever heaped upon the head of a gentleman. And he conquered. No man was ever more faithful. Is it not worthy of acception in North Carolina that the horse that pulls the plow deserves the fodder?

2nd. He is able. Some have doubted that this man will be able to hold his own in the Senate. Why, I do not know. Such men may be honest, but they must be blind. Barring Aycock, there was not a stronger speaker in the last campaign than F. M. Simmons. He is a man of scholarship and of culture, and withal, of fine social qualities. In mental vigor no man yet mentioned for the exalted place to which he aspires is his superior.

3rd. He is generous. He gave freely of his money as well as his time to the last campaign. No man in all North Carolina, in proportion to his ability, gave more actual cash to advance our cause. I sincerely doubt whether any other gave so much. I learn that his campaign contributions aggregated two thousand dollars.

4th. He is clean. I have heard a good deal of sneering at the idea of sending a "politician" to the Senate. Then who, pray, will we send? It does not lie in our mouths to talk about "short-cuts" in politics. If a man is fit to plan and conduct a campaign in a great State, and outline the policy to be pursued, he is certainly fit to represent it in our highest legislative body. Will we follow him in one place and repudiate him in another? Are we hypocrites? That argument falls to the ground unless we want to brand ourselves. But the truth is, Mr. Simmons made an open, manly fight all the way through, and unhorsed his opponents by his matchless skill. He was simply too much for the enemy. That is all. I have never heard his character assailed. He is sober, honest and capable. He loves his State with passionate devotion. He is not a Roman Catholic as some have alleged.

5th. He is poor. He is not able to "dispense hospitality" in Washington. Thank the Lord this is true, and it is one great reason why I want to see him go there. We are having a little too much hospitality dispensed already. Our Senators are becoming a little too lordly. Mr. Simmons can find plenty to do without spending his time fattening rich fools. Yes, he is poor, and we help to make him poor. He borrowed money on his private property, I am told, to help defray the expenses of the campaign. But, fellow citizens shall we cast him aside because of his poverty? Will as shameless an argument as this find acceptance in North Carolina? I throw not.

6th. The Republicans and Populists are praying night and day for anybody on earth except Simmons. And if the other five reasons are worthless this last is reason enough for me to stand by Simmons.

BRYAN ON THE ISSUES

Text of His Letter Accepting the Democratic Nomination for President.

APPRECIATES THE GREAT HONOR

Indorses and Approves the Platform Adopted by the Convention at Kansas City.

Gives His Views Upon the Question of Trusts, the Labor Problem and Other Subjects.

William Jennings Bryan's letter accepting the Democratic nomination for president of the United States is as follows:

Hon. James D. Richardson, Chairman, and Others of the Notification Committee of the Democratic National Convention:

Gentlemen:—In accepting the nomination tendered by you on behalf of the Democratic party, I beg to assure you of my appreciation of the great honor conferred on me by the delegates in convention assembled, and by the voters who gave instruction to the delegates.

I am sensible of the responsibilities which rest upon the chief magistrate of so great a nation, and realize the far-reaching effect of the questions involved in the present contest.

In my letter of acceptance of 1896 I made the following pledge:

"So deeply am I impressed with the magnitude of the power vested by the Constitution in the chief executive of the nation and with the enormous influence which he can yield for the benefit or injury of the people, that I wish to enter the office, if elected, free from any personal desire, except the desire to prove worthy of the confidence of my countrymen. Human judgment is fallible enough when unbiased by selfish considerations, and, in order that I may not be tempted to use the patronage of the office to advance any personal ambition, I hereby announce, with all the emphasis which words can express, my fixed determination not, under any circumstances, to be a candidate for re-election, in case this campaign results in my election."

Further reflection and observation constrain me to renew this pledge.

The platform adopted at Kansas City commands my cordial and unqualified approval. It courageously meets the issues now before the country, and states clearly and without ambiguity the party's position on every question considered. Adopted by a convention which assembled on the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, it breathes the spirit of candor, independence and patriotism which characterizes those who, at Philadelphia in 1776, promulgated the creed of the Republic.

Having in my notification speech, discussed somewhat at length the paramount issue, imperialism, and added some observations on militarism and the Boer war, it is sufficient at this time to review the remaining planks of the platform.

THE TRUST QUESTION.

Republican Party Lacks Either Desire or Ability to Deal with It.

The platform very properly gives prominence to the trust question. The appalling growth of combinations in restraint of trade during the present administration, proves conclusively that the Republican party lacks either the desire or the ability to deal with the question effectively. If as may be fairly assumed from the speeches and conduct of the Republican leaders, that party does not intend to take the people's side against these organizations, then the weak and qualified condemnation of trusts to be found in the Republican platform is designed to distract attention while industrial despotism is completing its work. A private monopoly has always been an outlaw. No defense can be made of an industrial system in which one, or a few men, can control for their own profit, the output or price of any article of merchandise. Under such a system the consumer suffers extortion, the producer of raw material has but one purchaser, and must sell at the arbitrary price fixed; the laborer has but one employer, and is powerless to protest against injustice, either in wages or in conditions of labor; the small stockholder is at the mercy of the speculator, while the traveling salesman contributes his salary to the overgrown profits of the trust. Since but a small proportion of the people can share in the advantages secured by private monopoly, it follows that the remainder of the people are not only excluded from the benefits, but are the helpless victims of every monopoly organized. It is difficult to over-estimate the immediate injustice that may be done, or to calculate the ultimate effect of this injustice upon the social and political welfare of the people. Our platform, after suggesting certain specific remedies, pledges the party to an unceasing warfare against private monopoly in nation, state and city. I heartily approve of this promise; if elected, it shall be my earnest and constant endeavor to fulfill the promise in letter and spirit. I shall select an attorney general who will, without fear or favor, enforce existing laws; I shall recommend such additional legislation as may be necessary to dissolve every private monopoly which does business outside of the state of its origin; and, if contrary to my belief and hope, a constitutional amendment is found to be necessary, I shall recommend such an amendment as will, without impairing any of the existing rights of the states, empower congress to protect the people of all the states from injury at the hands of individuals or corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

The platform accurately describes the Dingley tariff law, while it condemns it as a "trust breeding measure, skillfully devised to give to the few favors which they do not deserve, and to place upon the many burdens which they should not bear." Under its operation trusts can plunder the people of the United States, while they successfully compete in foreign markets with manufacturers of other countries. Even those who justify the general policy of protection will find it difficult to defend a tariff which enables a trust to exact an exorbitant toll from the citizen.

CORPORATIONS IN POLITICS.

Democratic Party Makes No War on Honestly Acquired Wealth.

The Democratic party makes no war upon honestly acquired wealth; neither does it seek to embarrass corporations engaged in legitimate business, but it does protest against corporations entering politics, and attempting to assume control of the instrumentalities of government. A corporation is not organized for political purposes, and should be compelled to confine itself to the business described in its charter. Honest corporations, engaged in an honest business, will find it to their advantage to aid in the enactment of such legislation as will protect them from the undeserved odium which will be brought upon them by those corporations which enter the political arena.

The Republican party has persistently refused to comply with the urgent request of the interstate commerce commission, for such an enlargement of the scope of the interstate commerce law as will enable the commission to realize the hopes aroused by its creation. The Democratic party is pledged to legislation which will empower the commission to protect individuals and communities from discrimination, and the public at large from unjust and unfair transportation rates.

THE FINANCIAL PLANK.

Demand Contained in the Chicago Platform Reiterated.

The platform reiterates the demand contained in the Chicago platform for an American financial system made by the American people for themselves. The purpose of such a system is to restore and maintain a bimetallic level of prices, and in order that there may be no uncertainty as to the method of restoring bimetallicism, the specific declaration in favor of free and unlimited coinage at the existing ratio of 16 to 1, independent of the action of other nations, is repeated. In 1896 the Republican party recognized the necessity for bimetallicism by pledging the party to an earnest effort to secure an international agreement for the free coinage of silver, and the president immediately after his inauguration, by authority of congress, appointed a commission composed of distinguished citizens to visit Europe and solicit foreign aid. Secretary Hay, in a letter written to Lord Aldenham in November, 1898, and afterwards published in England, declared that at that time the president and a majority of his cabinet still believed in the great

Beauty In and Behind Glasses

Some glasses may be disfiguring. Clothes may be ill-fitting or becoming—it depends upon who fits them and how. "Do they fit?"—is a question often asked, regarding shoes or clothes, but not always thought of in connection with eye-glasses. You can wear cheap, untidy clothes and injure your reputation only at the risk of injuring your eyesight. An ill-fitting shoe makes itself known by pain. Poor eyeglasses give no warning until the harm is done. Everybody reads, but all do not read understandingly. Almost any one can fit you with glasses, but will you be "fitted" after he has "fitted" you? We can assist in prolonging your eyes' usefulness and good vision.

We are experts in eyeglass fitting.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

desirability of an international agreement for the restoration of the double standard, but that it did not seem opportune to reopen the negotiations just then. The financial law enacted less than a year ago contains a concluding section declaring that the measure was not intended to stand in the way of the restoration of bimetallicism, whenever it could be done by co-operation with other nations. The platform submitted to the last Republican convention with the indorsement of the administration again suggested the possibility of securing foreign aid in restoring silver.

Now the Republican party, for the first time, openly abandons its advocacy of the double standard, and indorses the monetary system which it has so often and so emphatically condemned. The Democratic party, on the contrary, remains the steadfast advocate of the gold and silver coinage of the constitution, and is not willing that other nations shall determine for us the time and manner of restoring silver to its ancient place as a standard money. The ratio of 16 to 1 is not only the ratio now existing between all the gold and silver dollars in circulation in this country, a ratio which even the Republican administration has not attempted to change, but it is the only ratio advocated by those who are seeking to re-open the mints. Whether the senate, now hostile to bimetallicism, can be changed during this campaign or the campaign of 1902 can only be determined after the votes are counted, but neither the present nor the future political complexion of congress has prevented or should prevent an announcement of the party's position upon this subject in unequivocal terms.

The currency bill, which received the sanction of the executive and the Republican members of the house and senate, justifies the warning given by the Democratic party in 1896. It was then predicted that the Republican party would attempt to retire the greenbacks, although the party and its leaders studiously concealed their intentions. That purpose is now plain and the people must choose between the retention of the greenbacks, issued and controlled in volume by the government, and a national banknote currency issued by banks and controlled in their own interests. If the national banknotes are to be secured by bonds, the currency system now supported by the Republican party in-

MR. BRYAN ON CHILD LABOR.

In his Labor Day speech at Chicago some two weeks ago, Mr. Bryan said some vital things, and we do not have reference to his discussion of partisan measures, which was really not in good taste on the occasion. There can be no question of where Mr. Bryan's heart is when any question of humanity arises. Here, for instance, is what he said on child labor:

The labor organization has done much to lessen the evils of child labor. No one can visit the factories where children are employed without contemplating the crime which is being perpetrated upon posterity. If there is any temporary economic advantage in the employment of children of tender age, it is insignificant when measured by the permanent injury done to present and future generations. To rob a child of its school days is bad enough, but to bend its back by a load for which only the adult is fitted is even worse.

It is, indeed, it is worse than anything else conceivable. Mr. Bryan not only recognizes the inherent wrong to the child but notes that even in the long run it will "not pay."

Writing to the New York Sun and commending "Col. Le Grand B. Cannon" for improving the site at North Elba, New York, where John Brown's body lies, an anonymous fool remarks:

This spot will be forever dear to history and mankind, embalmed as it is with sacred and thrilling memories of that struggle which lifted a race to liberty and dedicated a continent to freedom. It is well, therefore, to keep these relics safe and sacred, for in the eloquent words of Wendell Phillips, "It is not impossible that Virginia, clothed and in her right mind," may yet beg of New York the dust of John Brown for some marble mausoleum at Richmond, as repentant Florence, robed in sackcloth, begged of Ravenna the bones of that outlawed Dante whom a century before she had ordered to be burned alive."

Yet John Brown was a murderer as cold-blooded as ever thrust knife in sleeping body. He took up arms against the United States and plotted to inaugurate a wholesale midnight assassination ambitiously designed to embrace States in its scope and number thousands as its victims. Who glorifies him glorifies red handed murder and the slaughter of innocents. The passions of forty years ago might have given an excuse for it, but that it should be done today is one of the incomprehensibles.

The country continues to respond nobly to the call for relief for the Galveston people. It is stated that in three days after the calamity Governor Sayers had received $1,500,000, and the gifts still pour in. All of them are needed, and as a contemporary suggests, the relief efforts, like the calamity, will be unprecedented.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 16.—Miss Clara Barton, with her corps of Red Cross workers and carloads of supplies arrived here this afternoon, and at once began active operations.—Press Dispatch.

Wherever suffering is in wholesale, where succor is needed, there is Miss Barton and the noble Red Cross.

The article published elsewhere signed "Countryman," urging Mr. Simmons' claims to the senatorship, or rather giving reasons why he should be elected, is the best article that we have seen on the subject.

Old man Hanna has either assumed pop gun Roosevelt's place in the campaign, or he is in his dotage. In a speech in Chicago yesterday he called Mr. Bryan a hypocrite and said that there were no trusts in this country. He talked like a crazy man or one who was frightened out of his wits.

Roosevelt spent Sunday traveling in Montana, dividing his time between talking with the preachers and riding a bronco. Doubtless the change from a hobby to bronco was pleasant.

We publish in full Mr. Bryan's letter of acceptance, which was given out this week.

Hanna having made Roosevelt hush, the question now is who will make Hanna hush.

GLEANINGS.

Speaking of the work of Sunday in clearing away the debris and extricating the dead bodies in Galveston a press dispatch says: "The force engaged in burying the dead and clearing up the city has increased steadily until now twenty-five hundred men are pushing the work. All the corpses in the open, along the shores, or near the wreckage, have been sunk in the gulf or burned in the streets. The labor of clearing away the debris in search of bodies began today, at Thirtieth street and avenue O, one of the worst wrecked parts of the town. In thirty minutes fifty corpses were found within a space thirty yards square. Whole families lay dead piled in indescribable confusion. Old and young, crushed by the falling timbers, were one by one dragged from the debris six to twenty feet deep. Aged fathers were clinging to more robust forms; children clutching to mothers' skirts, young girls with their arms around brothers, mothers clasping babes to their bosoms. These were the melancholy sights seen by those digging among the ruins."

There is great ignorance concerning hypnotism and people are ready to believe most anything as a story that comes from Indiana about the trick played by Dr. Tait, a Democratic stump speaker and hypnotizer, shows. According to a Hoosier correspondent the Doctor had arranged for a joint debate with an ardent, eloquent and life-long Republican of great experience on the stump. After the former had made his plea in behalf of Bryan his opponent arose and to the amazement of the crowd attacked the McKinley administration, declaring that his eyes had been opened to the dangerous character of the Republican party. Later Dr. Tait confessed that he had hypnotized the Republican speaker in order to produce this result. Of course there is no truth in the story.

Hon. James Weaver, the ex-Populist candidate for President, was to speak at Emporia, Kans., one day last week, and his crowd failed to materialize to any great extent. This led some campaigner to remark:

"Big crops, Few Pops."

A Chicago correspondent says: Broom handles lead all other weapons used offensively or defensively by Chicago women. An examination of the local police record for one year shows that in all encounters, aggregating 771, in which women took part the broom handle was used 186 times and the nursing bottle only once.

THE DOG SHOW.

Exhibit Promises to be Excellent—Entries Should be Made Early.

A dog show recently held in connection with a fair in Toronto, Canada, was very successful, there being 7,365 entries during the week. Mr. Tallman says he does not expect quite so many entries for the bench show in connection with the Central Carolina Fair, though the exhibit bids fair to be an excellent one for the first attempt.

All entries should be made at the office of Mr. William Tallman, in the Fields building, on Fayetteville street. It is important that entries be made early, as arrangements for the exhibits will have to be made previous to the opening of the Fair.

Education at the Fair.

President Charles D. McIver, of the State Normal and Industrial College, and President L. L. Hobbs, of Guilford College, directors of the educational exhibit at the Central Carolina Fair, are preparing for a creditable display. They will secure exhibits from the public schools of Guilford county, all the State educational institutions, and many other schools and colleges.

Admitted the Theft and Was Bound Over to Court.

Policeman Jordan returned from High Point last night with Robert Williams, the young negro who stole Mr. J. E. Hardin's gold watch, medal and razor, as told in Monday's Telegram. He was given a hearing before Squire Eckel early this morning and bound over to court. He was unable to furnish bond and was placed in jail. On the trial Williams admitted the theft.

The stolen property has been restored to Mr. Hardin.

The company meets again Monday night in the rooms of the Business Men's Association, at which time the organization will do some drilling and get down to business.

A NEW HOTEL.

A Modern and Up-to-Date Hostelry in Asheboro.

The Central Hotel, at Asheboro, has recently been remodelled and is now to be one of the most modern and up-to-date hostleries in any small town in North Carolina. An addition of ten rooms has been added to the hotel and a porch built around the building, making it a very comfortable and homelike place. Electric call bells have been placed in every room and other improvements added.

Mr. A. E. Lewis is the manager. Several northerners have engaged rooms for the winter, and the prospects are that the hotel will be full.

The hotel is the property of United States Marshal Millikan.

Big Attraction for the Fair.

The proprietor of Parks Show is in the city arranging with Daniel & West to exhibit here during Fair week. The show carries all kinds of wild animals, dogs, etc., and is said to be one of the best of its kind in the country.

Resume Operations Tomorrow.

The Hunter Manufacturing and Commission Company's plant will be started up again tomorrow morning, after a stop of two weeks. Work was temporarily suspended for the purpose of cleaning and repairing the machinery.

Bank Statements.

The Greensboro Loan and Trust Company publishes a report to the Corporation Commission in this issue. This institution has grown wonderfully since its foundation, due largely to the wise and conservative management of President Fry and Secretary Allen. The City National Bank, another leading institution of this city, also publishes a statement in today's Telegram. It can but be of interest to the customers of the institution and those in search of a sound bank.

POLITICAL NEWS ITEMS.

Mr. Bryan spoke yesterday morning at Fort Scott, Kansas, and at Kansas City last evening.

Tammany is preparing to give Mr. Bryan a reception at Madison Square Garden October 16. Crocker said yesterday that 100,000 voters would be present.

Roosevelt spoke yesterday at Butte, Montana.

It was announced at Democratic national headquarters yesterday that next week Adlai E. Stevenson will begin a speaking tour of Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Hannis Taylor, ex-minister to Spain, was yesterday defeated for nomination for Congress in the first Alabama district by Geo. W. Taylor.

Senator Jones and ex-Senator Hill had an extended conference yesterday in New York at the Hoffman House. Later Senator Jones conferred with ex-Governor Stone, Congressman Richardson and James L. Norris, ex-treasurer of the national committee, who came from Washington.

Hon. Wharton Barker, nominee for President on the middle-of-the-road Populist ticket, is in Georgia. He believes he will get 1,500,000 votes in November, and that his vote will come from the 2,000,000 of Populists who supported Bryan last election. He thought Bryan would get but a quarter of a million Populist votes. He thinks under present conditions, President McKinley's chances are better than those of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Barker says he is hopeful of carrying both Georgia and Texas. He expects to get 15,000 votes in Nebraska, and make a good showing in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, West Virginia, Kentucky, Kansas and South Dakota.

Beautiful Monument to Miss McAlister. Charlotte News.

At Mr. I. W. Durham's marble yard is to be seen a beautiful monument to be erected over Miss Elise McAlister's grave at Asheboro. The figure which surmounts the pedestal represents memory—a girl with drooping head; a wreath of flowers in one hand and in the other a flower which she is in the act of dropping on the grave. The figure is of Italian marble. It was carved in Carrara, Italy, and is perfect in symmetry and work.

volves a permanent and increasing debt, and, so long as this system stands, the financial classes will be tempted to throw their powerful influence upon the side of any measure which will contribute to the size and permanency of a national debt. It is hardly conceivable that the American people will deliberately turn from the debt-paying policy of the past, to the dangerous doctrine of perpetual bonds.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS

Demand Appears First Time in Democratic National Platform.

The demand for a constitutional amendment providing for the election of senators by direct vote of the people, appears for the first time in a Democratic national platform, but a resolution proposing such an amendment, has three times passed the house of representatives, and that, too, practically without opposition. Whatever may have been the reasons which secured the adoption of the present plan, a century ago, new conditions have made it imperative that the people be permitted to speak directly in the selection of their representatives in the senate. A senator is no less the representative of the state because he receives his commission from the people themselves, rather than from the members of the state legislature. If a voter is competent to vote for a member of congress, for state officers and for president, he is competent to choose his representative in the senate. A system which makes the senator responsible for his election to the people, as a whole, and amenable to them if he misrepresents them, must commend itself to those who have confidence in the intelligence and patriotism of the masses.

The platform indorses the principle of direct legislation. This is already applied to the more important questions in nation, state and city. It rests upon the sound theory that the people can be trusted, and that the more responsive the government is to the will of the people, the more free it will be from misuse and abuse.

THE LABOR QUESTION.

Abolition of Government by Injunction Is Necessary.

Several planks of the labor platform are devoted to questions in which the laboring classes have an immediate interest, but which more remotely affect our entire population. While what is generally known as government by injunction is at present directed chiefly against the employees of corporations, when there is a disagreement between them and their employer, it involves a principle which concerns every one. The purpose of the injunction in such cases is to substitute trial by judge for trial by jury, and is a covert blow at the jury system. The abolition of government by injunction is as necessary for the protection of the reputation of the court, as it is for the security of the citizen. Blackstone in defending trial by jury, says:

"The impartial administration of justice, which secures both our persons and our properties is the great end of civil society, but if that be entrusted entirely to the magistracy, a select body of men, and those selected by the prince such as enjoy the highest offices of the state, their decisions in spite of their natural integrity, will have frequently an involuntary bias toward those of their own rank, and dignity. It is not to be expected from human nature that the few would be always attentive to the interests and good of the many."

If the criminal laws are not sufficient for the protection of property, they can be made more severe, but a citizen charged with crime must have his case tried before a jury of his peers.

The blacklist as now employed in some places enables the employer to place the employee under practical duress, for the skilled laborer loses his independence when the employers can not only discharge him, but prevent his securing any similar employment. The blacklist enables employers to secure, by mutual agreement, that control over the wage earners which a private monopoly exercises without control.

DEMAND FOR ARBITRATION.

It Should Be Supported by the Public, Employer and Employee.

The platform renews the demand for arbitration between corporations and their employees. No one who has observed the friction which arises between great corporations and their numerous employees can doubt the wisdom of establishing an impartial court for the just and equitable settlement of disputes. The demand for arbitration ought to be supported as heartily by the public, which suffers inconvenience because of strikes and lockouts, and by the employers themselves, as by the employees. The establishment of arbitration will insure friendly relations between labor and capital, and render obsolete the growing practice of calling in the army to settle labor troubles.

I cannot too strongly emphasize the importance of the platform recommendation of the establishment of a department of labor, with a member of the cabinet at its head. When we remember how important a position the laborer fills in our economic, social and political fabric, it is hard to conceive of a valid objection being made to this recognition of his services. Agriculture is already represented in the president's official household; the army and navy have their representatives there; the state department, with its consular service, and the treasury department, with its close connection with fiscal affairs, keep the executive in touch with the business and commercial interests. A cabinet officer truly representative of the wage earning class would be of invaluable aid, not only to the toilers, but to the president.

The Chinese exclusion act has proven an advantage to the country, and its continuance and strict enforcement, as well as its extension to other similar races, are imperatively necessary. The Asiatic is so essentially different from the American that he cannot be assimilated with our population, and is, therefore, not desirable as a permanent citizen. His presence as a temporary laborer, preserving his national identity, and maintaining a foreign scale of wages and living, must ever prove an injustice to American producers, as well as a perpetual source of irritation.

THE PENSION LAWS.

They Should Be Construed According to Spirit That Prompted Passage.

The party expresses its pride in the soldiers and sailors of all our wars, and declares its purpose to deal generously with them and their dependents. A liberal policy is natural and necessary in a government which depends upon a citizen soldiery, instead of a large standing army. Self-interest, as well as gratitude, compels the government to make bountiful provision for those who, in the hour of danger, and at great sacrifice of busi-

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other ailments. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 28.

I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.

Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhoea. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

ness, health and life, tender their services to their country.

The pension laws should be construed according to the generous spirit which prompted their passage. The platform very properly reiterates the position taken in 1896, that the fact of enlistment shall be deemed conclusive evidence that the soldier was sound when the government accepted him. A certificate given now to the health of a person 40 years ago, even if easily obtainable, should not have as much weight as the certificate of the medical officer who examined the volunteer with a view of ascertaining his fitness for army service.

The Democratic party is in favor of the immediate construction, ownership and control of the Nicaragua canal by the United States. The failure of the Republican party to make any progress in carrying out a pledge contained in its platform four years ago, together with the substitution in its latest platform of a plank favoring an isthmian canal for a specific declaration in favor of the Nicaraguan canal, would indicate that the Republican leaders either do not appreciate the importance of this great waterway to the maritime strength and commercial interests of the country, or that they give too much consideration to the interested opposition of transcontinental lines. The Hays-Pauncefote treaty, now before the senate, would, if ratified, greatly lessen the value of the canal, if it would not indeed convert it into a positive menace in time of war. The paramount interests of the United States in the western hemisphere, together with the obligations to defend the republics to the south of us, makes it necessary that our government shall be able to close the canal against any hostile power.

Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma have long been ready to assume the responsibilities and enjoy the privileges of statehood, and it will be a pleasure, as well as a duty, to carry out the platform pledge concerning them.

There will be a popular acquiescence in the demand for home rule, and a territorial form of government in Alaska and Porto Rico. Both are entitled to local self-government and representation in congress.

ISLAND OF CUBA.

Can Its Welfare Be Intrusted to the Republican Party?

The recognition contained in both the Democratic and Republican platforms of the right of the Cubans to independence, removes the general principle involved from the domain of partisan politics. It is proper, however, to consider whether the accomplishment of this purpose can be safely entrusted to the Republican party after it has yielded to the allurements of the colonial idea, and abandoned its earlier faith in the natural and inalienable rights of man.

The time is ripe for a systematic and extended effort to reclaim the arid lands and fit them for actual settlers. The last agricultural report estimates that homes can thus be provided for many millions of people. The impounding and use of the waters which are wasted in the spring would people the western states with thrifty, intelligent and industrious citizens, and these would furnish a valuable market for all the products of the factories. A small percentage of the money spent in a war of conquest would provide occupation and habitation for more people than would ever seek a residence in colonies within the tropics.

The reasons given by Washington, Jefferson and the other statesmen of the early days in support of the doctrine that we should maintain friendly relations with all nations, but enter into entangling alliances with none, are even stronger today than they were a hundred years ago. Our commerce is rapidly increasing, and we are brought into constant communication with all parts of the world. Even if we desired to do so, we could not afford to alienate many nations by cultivating unnecessary intimacy with a few. Our strength and standing are such that it is less necessary than ever before to lean for aid upon the friendliness of a foreign power.

We cannot connect ourselves with European nations, and share in their jealousies and ambitions without losing the peculiar advantage, which our location, our character and our institutions give us in the world's affairs.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

It Is Absolutely Essential to the Welfare of the United States.

The doctrine enunciated by Monroe, and approved by succeeding presidents, is essential to the welfare of the United States. The continents of North and South America are dedicated to the development of free government. One republic after another has been established, until today monarchical idea has barely a foothold in the new world.

While it is not the policy of this country to interfere where amicable relations exist between European countries and their dependencies in America, our people would look with disfavor upon any attempt on the part of European governments to maintain an unwilling or forcible sovereignty over the people living on this side of the Atlantic.

The position taken by the Republican leaders, and more recently set forth by the Republican candidate for the presidency, viz.: That we cannot protect a nation from outside interference without exercising sovereignty over its people, is an assault upon the Monroe doctrine, for while this argument is at this time directed against the proposition to give to the Filipinos both independence and protection, it is equally applicable to the republics of Central and South America. If this government cannot lend its strength to another republic without making subjects of its people, then we must either withdraw our protection from the republics to the south of us or absorb them. Under the same plea, that the guardian nation must exert an authority equal to its responsibility, European nations have for centuries exploited their wards, and it is a significant fact that the Republican party should accept the European idea of a protectorate, at the same time that it adopts a European colonial policy.

There is no excuse for this abandonment of the American idea. We have maintained the Monroe doctrine for three-quarters of a century. The expense to us has been practically nothing, but the protection has been beyond value to our sister republics. If a Filipino republic is erected upon the ruins of Spanish tyranny, its protection by us will be neither difficult nor expensive. No European nation would be willing for any other European nation to have the islands, neither would any European nation be willing to provoke a war with us in order to obtain possession of the islands. If we assert sovereignty over the Filipinos we will have to defend that sovereignty by force, and the Filipinos will be our enemies; if we protect them from outside interference, they will defend themselves and will be our friends. If they show as much determination in opposing the sovereignty of other nations as they have shown in opposing our sovereignty, they will not require much assistance from us.

UNFAIR TAXATION.

Matter Which Is Made the Pretext for Spending Public Money.

The Republican party, drawing as it does enormous campaign funds from those who enjoy special privileges at the hands of the government, is powerless to protect the tax payers from the attack of those who profit by large appropriations. A surplus in the treasury offers constant temptation to extravagance, and extravagance, in turn, compels a resort to new means of taxation, which is being kept in the background until the campaign is over, is a fair illustration of the imposition which will be attempted when there is a considerable amount of money idle in the treasury. The rehabilitation of the merchant marine, laudable in itself, is made the pretext for expenditure of public money for the benefit of large ship owners, and in the interests of a transportation monopoly. The government being only the agent of the people, has no right to collect from the people taxes beyond the legitimate needs of a government honestly and effectively administered, and public servants should exercise the same degree of care in the use of the people's money that private individuals do in the use of their own money. With a restoration of a foreign policy consistent with American ideas there can be an immediate and large reduction in the burdens now borne by the people.

INCOME TAX PLANK.

It Is Covered by Reaffirmation of the Chicago Platform.

By inadvertence the income tax plank agreed upon by the resolutions form as read and adopted. The subject, however, is covered by the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform, and I take this occasion to reassert my belief in the principle which underlies the income tax. Congress should have authority to levy and collect an income tax whenever necessary, and an amendment to the federal constitution specifically conferring such authority ought to be supported by even those who may think the tax unnecessary at this time. In the hour of danger the government can draft the citizen; it ought to be able to draft the pocketbook as well. Unless money is more precious than blood, we can not afford to give greater protection to the incomes of the rich than to the lives of the poor.

The subjects, however, treated in this letter, important as each may seem in itself, do not press so imperatively for solution as the question which the platform declares to be the paramount issue in this campaign. Whether we shall adhere to, or abandon those ideas of government which have distinguished this nation from other nations and given to its history its peculiar charm and value, is a question the settlement of which cannot be delayed. No other question can approach it in importance; no other question demands such immediate consideration. It is easier to lose a reputation than to establish one, and this nation would find it a long and laborious task to regain its proud position among the nations, if, under the stress of temptation, it should repudiate the self-evident truths proclaimed by our heroic ancestors and sacredly treasured during a career unparalleled in the annals of time. When the doctrine that the people are the only source of power is made secure from further attack we can safely proceed to the settlement of the numerous questions which involve the domestic and economic welfare of our citizens.

Very truly yours,
W. J. BRYAN.

BHAVE MEN FALL.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Louisville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

HONEST ADS THE BEST

Persons in certain occupations foster the fallacy that it detracts from their dignity to invite custom by newspaper advertisements. Yet a New York lawyer recently said that many members of the bar in that city who do not advertise have their agents about the courts and prisons to solicit patronage; and there are dentists who employ "pullers-in," doctors who maintain carriages which they do not need in order to appear busy, and the like. Whether advertising is dignified depends on its character. A frank newspaper announcement is more honorable and more becoming than many other methods of getting business which are frequently employed.
